

JESSE JOSHUA WATSON

Left: Octopus' Garden

5x2.5'

2026

I share this painting because it is similar in theme to my concept for this project. Under-water vibes.

Below: Jail Mural. 11/2025. 6x18'
Acrylic on Polytab, Acrylic gel medium, Golden Mural Tech Acrylic paint and UV Varnish.
Commissioned by the city of Lynwood.

Mural for City Jail Classroom. $7000

My goal was to create a portal for visualizing possibilities, potential and hope outside of the walls of their current confinements.

Above: Watershed Mural. 05/2021. 4x7' Acrylic on Okume, Acrylic gel medium, Golden Mural Tech Acrylic paint and UV Varnish.

Commissioned by the Finnriver Cidery and Farms. Chimacum, WA $8000 Working with a high school senior we gathered info from a vast number of industry leaders who's fields are dependant upon a healthy watershed. Using data from Fishing captains, WA Fish and Wildlife directors, City Water officials and many more, we created the concept of the mural to show the many facets of our watershed and its vital importance. The high school student helped develop the concept and paint the final mural.

Right: The Glory of the Safeway Parking Lot 2025. 40x20" Acrylic on Canvas Example of my PNW Local Landscapes

Left: OCEAN School Mural.
04/2023. 8x4'

Acrylic on Okume, Acrylic gel medium, Golden Mural Tech Acrylic paint and UV Varnish.

Commissioned by The Benjie Project. Blue Heron Middle School, WA $6500

Together with the students of OCEAN program, we developed a concept over the course of several weeks of meetings and brainstorming. Our goal was to come up with a mural that embodied the many facets of the OCEAN program. Many ideas came together and many concessions were necessarily given, some tearfully, as we narrowed down the final composition. Students and I painted it and it was installed on the exterior wall of the school. The pride the students still take in this is very heartwarming.

Right: Pete's Cabinet. 2025. 5x5'
Acrylic on metal cabinet doors.
Project for fellow artist and boat builder. Example of art style of my youth.
I don't get as many opportunities to paint this kind of piece but always love when I do.

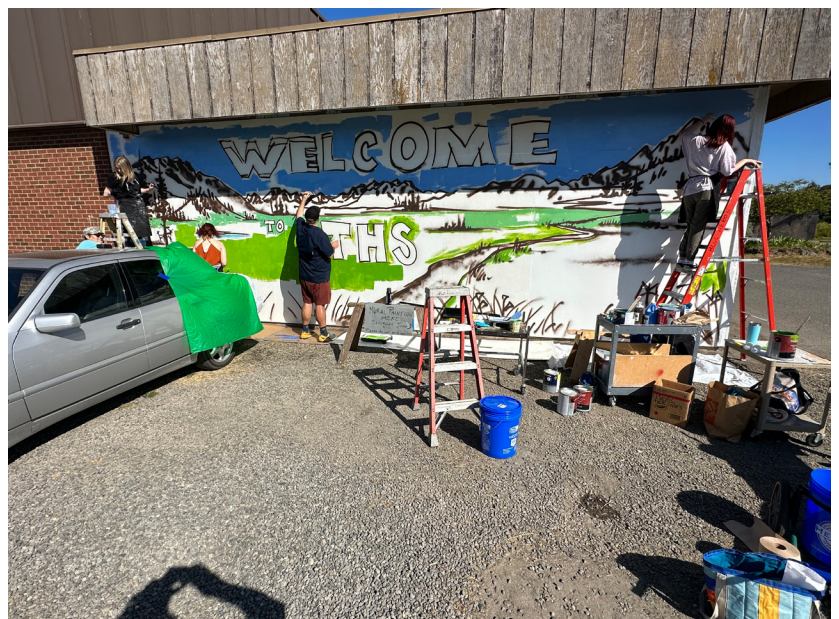

Above: PTHS Welcome Mural.

06/2023. 12x30'

PT Artscape project

Port Townsend High School, WA

I worked with students of all ages on one Saturday in June, 2023, in which we all painted a quick welcome mural for the high school. We had youngest kids help first, then older, and finally select high school students helped me finish up the mural and clean up any remaining spills left over from the younger kiddos.

Left: We Are Here. 2026.
5x5'

Acrylic on wood panel.
Fine art painting of North Beach. Local scene in my favorite style of painting.

Right: Ashley's View -
Salt Creek. 2026. 5x5'
Acrylic on wood panel.
Local Landscape of Salt
Creek- Crescent Beach,
where I often surf.